

MOROCCO

If you're looking for the great outdoors Morocco is the place to be bordering the beautiful Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. Why don't you do something different and outrageous like visit the capital city, Rabat where you can see the 12th-century royal fort overlooking the water. If you are looking for a new exciting and fun place to go this summer, what are you waiting for? Go to Morocco. Some of the best things to do are to see the city of Marrakech, walk the desert at Merzouga and spend a few days in Tangier. If you are there on independence day which is Morocco's National Holiday on the 18th of November, you can go and see parades and get some delicious cuisine. Morocco is bordered by Algeria and by Western Sahara. People in Morocco speak Arabic but don't worry they have good English, French, Spanish and lots more. You never know if you're lucky you might even run into some of the famous Moroccan celebrities like French Montana the hip hop artist or Jean Reno the actor. Don't forget now bring plenty of Dirham to spend in our great shops and to try out our beautiful cuisine